PROJECTS

Markdown CSS+

August 2018

- A SASS/CSS library that emulates the look of GitHub Markdown with a few more added features.
- Developed using SASS using modern project structure and code standards.
- Currently at 40 downloads a week on npm.

Batch Resize

May 2018

- A dead simple batch image resizer that's efficient and easy to use.
- Developed using C# WinForms.
- Currently at 40 downloads a week on npm.

Title Scroll

April 2018

- Stupid little JavaScript library that makes the title on a webpage scroll so the entire message can be read.
- Developed using vanilla ES6 (JavaScript).
- This was my first "real" project that I publicly put on GitHub, this was more for just learning what it's like to host a public repo. hopefully nobody uses it as scrolling titles are annoying.
